RESEARCH:

2019: Content analysis of fifty research articles published in Journal of Social Science on the use of theory in applied research.
2017: Co-Methodologist, with Rebecca Olsen. Breast Cancer Research Results. To determine if different Magee equation recurrence scores are predictors of oncotype Dx scores and chemotherapy recommendations. N=67.
2015-2016: Co-Investigator, with Rebecca Olsen, Rohan Trench, Monique Pydych, Erin Helms. Motor Analysis Quality and Effectiveness. Research Methodologist. To determine whether the quality and effectiveness of care provided to the children decreases the burden of the caregiver's in their efforts to take care of the child. The clinic will become aware of the strengths and weaknesses of the care that is provided and will enable them to improve in specific areas. N=35.

2015-2016: Co-Investigator, with Claudia Lago, MD and Robert C. Gabordl,II, MD, and Rebecca Olsen, Standardized use of Oncotype DX: Quality Assurance and Cost Benefit Analysis in the Treatment of Early Stage Invasive Breast Cancer. Research Methodologist. To compare rates of ODx use before and after standardization to the NCCN guidelines, and to compare rates of ED visits and hospitalization before and after standardization of ODx ordering – data from cancer registry and BayCare Finance. To compare rates of ED visits and hospitalization in patients who received ODx testing and those who did not after the date of standardization – data from cancer registry and BayCare Finance; To determine the rate of treatment recommended in concordance with the RS by risk category (low, intermediate, high) in patients tested post-standardization data from cancer registry; To determine economic impact on cost of chemotherapy, ER visits, and hospitalizations from standardization of ODX to NCCN criteria; To compare time to treatment/report intervals defined as surgery date to report date pre and post standardization. N=300.

Summer 2014: Project Methodologist (with Rebecca Olsen), HIV/AIDS Treatment Compliance Project. Purpose is to: 1) assess the quality of care received; 2) provide healthcare quality improvement recommendations; 3) evaluate compliance with treatment/activities; 4) inform barriers to compliance; and 5) provide a focus for training programs, education materials, intervention initiatives, business planning, healthcare operations and administrative changes. N=3000.

Summer 2014: U.S. Preparation for replication of Jeong Woo Koo's Human Rights Values Survey, with David Brunnsma, Brian Gran, Rusty Shekha, Mark Frezzo, and Keri Iyall Smith.
