

Liza A. Mizel, CTP, MBA

Currently Vice President, Treasury Management Officer at Cadence Bank, Liza provides guidance to middle market and large corporate companies in the Tampa Bay market on treasury solutions to maximize their working capital and cash flows. She can recommend solutions and technology that can automate manual processes and integrate data from internal accounting systems and your bank. This integration and visibility into financial activity improves decision making, compliance, cash forecasting, and overall cash management.

Liza has more than 13 years of commercial banking experience. A double graduate of The University of Tampa, Liza has an M.B.A. and a bachelor of science in business economics with an international business concentration. She is also a Certified Treasury Professional (CTP) and participates in the Tampa Bay chapter of the Association for Financial Professionals (AFP).

In addition to serving as the President for a Tampa-based women's professional group, Ekhos, Liza also participates on the Advisory Council to the Dean of the John H. Sykes College of Business at The University of Tampa and is an active Board of Fellows member at The University of Tampa serving on various committees.

Liza owns Chestnut Hill Equestrian, a small private horse boarding and training farm located in Dade City. Personally, Liza enjoys spending time with her horse preparing for equestrian competitions and traveling.
